

SIKH ASHES SCATTERING CEREMONIES

For your ashes scattering we take family and friends onto the beautiful River Avon on our cruising boat, The Rita Ellen.

The River Avon joins the River Severn at Tewkesbury and then flows into the sea.

The scattering of the ashes is at a very peaceful and pretty spot downstream some distance away from the busy river in Stratford upon Avon.

You may of course scatter ashes with or without a religious ceremony.

We respect your choice.

Flowers, paper boats, salt or paper bio-degradable containers may be floated on the river. If the urn is plastic or a cardboard tube we are more than happy to look after it when you leave. Please note that cloth, tubes, plastic urns or bags can't be put into the river as they are dangerous for wildlife, the environment and boats.

At all times we comply with the Environment Agency's Code of Practice.

If you would like to discuss your ceremony, please call us on 01789 269669 or send an email to: captain@bancroftcruisers.co.uk
